Seabrook Island is a great place to live, play and vacation, but like all barrier islands, we do experience hurricanes, flooding, tornadoes, and earthquakes. Planning, preparation, and recovery are critical. If disaster strikes, Seabrook Island may not be habitable for days or longer due to impassable roads, loss of electric power, and water service. If an evacuation order is declared, emergency service personnel and equipment will be removed from the island. Emergency medical techs, first responders, and security will NOT be available. Imagine no electricity, water, cell service, or land lines. Access to family, friends, emergency and medical assistance is impossible. For these reasons, impending disasters must be taken very seriously.

Extensive information is available on the Town of Seabrook Island website:

FULL-TIME RESIDENTS

- All Full Time Residents should be prepared for a hurricane by utilizing the checklist in this pamphlet.
- If you are going to be away for an extended period of time during hurricane season, such as vacation or other event, you should complete the checklist before you leave. In addition, have a property manager, friend or neighbor's contact information available to check on the status of your property. Have a prearranged plan to contact clean up resources should the need arise.

PART-TIME RESIDENTS

Have a prearranged plan to contact clean-up resources should the need arise.

RENTAL PROPERTY OWNER

- Discuss responsibilities in the event of a disaster with your management team, and review/confirm annually. This includes preparing your home, as well as cleaning up afterwards, if necessary. Keep in contact with them before, during and after the disaster.

RENTER

- Discuss with your homeowner ahead of hurricane season what they expect of you concerning preparation before and clean up afterwards. Ask the homeowner for a backup resource to contact if necessary.
