This past week witnessed the tree lighting at the Lake House, the Noel decorations that beautifully enhance the entrance to Freshfields and the Palmetto “Christmas Trees” at the Marina that truly bring a holiday feel to Seabrook. It’s starting to “look a lot like Christmas”.

Seabrook holiday music at the Tree Lighting was provided by Bob Becker. Santa made a guest appearance and joined everybody enjoying the s’mores, hot dogs and hot chocolate.

It’s the Most Wonderful Time of the Year

The 33rd Alan Fleming Senior Open Clay Court State Championship

“Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds.” That was true of this year’s tennis rounds. This year’s Fleming Tennis Tournament battled the elements but prevailed.

Susan Leggett, Tournament Chair, explained: “This has been an extraordinary year for the Fleming. Before Hurricane Matthew barreled into town, the entire tournament had been organized and we were one day from kicking off the tournament. When we had to cancel the Fleming, our Racquet Club staff, Mike, Mark, Tom, Robert and Kristin went into action to notify the players, sponsors and vendors and to put all the plans on hold. This was all while they were trying to fortify the Racquet Club against the Hurricane! When the decision to reschedule the tournament was made, the planning started all over again.”

Seabrook was happy to welcome one hundred and sixty players, including world-ranked, nationally ranked and sectionally ranked players. This year’s Fleming Tennis Tournament battled the elements but prevailed.

Happy Holidays from The Seabrooker

The Seabrooker

December 2016
Seabrook Island Birders Thank Its Members

This month I wanted to report a couple lesser known varieties of wines that are excellent and worth exploring.

They are regions that are on the cutting edge of Portuguese wines that are slowly gaining recognition. However, there are many others that have much more to offer than the first class and those that are more modestly priced. The regions of Alto Douro, Madeira, and Vinho Verde are examples of these unknown and undervalued wines.

For a red, I have really been enjoying a French wine, a Viognier from South Africa. It is a medium-bodied wine with a nice balance of fruit and acidity. It is great with grilled meats, chicken, and pasta dishes.

For a white, I would recommend a Vouvray or a Muscadet from France. They are light and refreshing wines that are perfect for sipping on a warm day.

The bottom line is that there are many different wines to explore and you can find something for every taste and occasion. So, go ahead and try something new, you never know what you might like!
This may be your first, or your last Seabrook Holiday season. Seabrook is sometimes in the lands that bad weather forces us to take a few minutes out to take a walk and enjoy the beauty of the world around us.

The meeting will begin with a brief introduction of what we do and how we do it. After that, we will have a panel of speakers from various areas of our community. Each speaker will give their perspective on how we can improve our community. We will also have a Q&A session where you can ask any questions you may have.

The meeting will conclude with a brief discussion of the next steps and how we can move forward.

We hope you can join us for this important meeting.
Wild Things and Green Spaces

It’s no accident that Seabrook Island is blessed with an abundance of wildlife; activities that support this environment and its native inhabitants can be traced to the origins of our island.

The Seabrook Island Properties Owners Association (SIPOA) has been at the forefront of these efforts to maintain and protect natural lands, wildlife, and waterways. It’s important to remember that the activities that support and protect the natural environment are, in a sense, a form of preservation. The programs that outline guidelines for property owners and residents are a demonstration of the commitment to maintaining the natural beauty of the island.

Just as the diversity of flora and fauna supports the ecological balance of our natural environment, so too do the natural resources of our island support the beauty of the island. The natural beauty of our island is a gift to all who live here, and it is our responsibility to protect and preserve it.

One of the programs that is working to protect the island’s natural resources is the Seabrook Island Properties Owners Association (SIPOA). The SIPOA is the governing body of Seabrook Island and is responsible for the maintenance and protection of the island’s natural resources. The SIPOA has established guidelines for property owners, residents, and visitors to ensure that the natural environment is protected.

The SIPOA’s guidelines cover a wide range of topics, from landscaping to wildlife protection. The guidelines aim to ensure that the natural environment is protected and that the beauty of the island is preserved for future generations.

In addition to the SIPOA, the Seabrook Island Club and the Seabrook Island Golf Club are also working to protect the island’s natural resources. The Seabrook Island Club is responsible for the maintenance of the natural environment around the club’s golf courses, and the Seabrook Island Golf Club is responsible for the maintenance of the natural environment around its golf courses.

The club’s and the golf club’s efforts are aligned with the SIPOA’s guidelines, and they work together to ensure that the natural environment is protected.

In conclusion, the natural environment of Seabrook Island is a precious resource that must be protected and preserved. Through the efforts of the SIPOA, the Seabrook Island Club, and the Seabrook Island Golf Club, the natural environment of Seabrook Island is being protected and preserved for future generations.

Strike a Balance: Improving Your Balancing System

As a personal trainer at The Lake House, I am often asked, “How can I improve my balance?”

Maneuvers that involve balance and stability are an important part of daily life. By improving your balance, you can prevent falls and injuries. Here are some tips to help you improve your balance:

1. Strengthen your core: Start by focusing on your core muscles, which include your abdominal muscles, back muscles, and pelvic floor. Try the following exercises to strengthen your core:
   - Planks: Lie on your stomach with your forearms on the ground. Lift your body off the ground, keeping your body straight from head to heels.
   - Bridge: Lie on your back with your knees bent and feet flat on the ground. Push your hips off the ground, keeping your back flat.

2. Improve your balance: To improve your balance, try the following exercises:
   - Single leg balance: Stand on one leg and hold for 30 seconds. Repeat on the other leg.
   - Balance beam: Stand on a balance beam and hold for 30 seconds. Repeat on the other leg.

3. Practice everyday activities: To improve your balance in everyday activities, try the following:
   - Walking: Try walking on a balance beam or a tennis ball.
   - Yoga: Practice yoga poses that focus on balance, such as the tree pose.

Making Better Use of Your Technology

Holiday Shopping Apps

Yes, it’s that time of the year again. Time to think about holiday shopping. The days are getting shorter, and we have so much to do. Regardless of which category you fall into, there are a few apps that can help make the holiday shopping season less stressful.

1. Amazon (iOS, Android, Free)
   - Amazon has an app, and with the winter holidays around the corner, it is the perfect time to shop from the comfort of your home.

2. Gift List (iOS, Freen, Free)
   - This app is perfect for tracking gifts and shoppers. It helps you keep track of gift ideas and shopping lists.

LOOK AND FEEL LIKE A CHAMPION

Powerful reasons why women should strength train

Many women slip away from strength training, believing that a good run or swim will do the job. But women lose weight lifting their strength training.

You can’t run off muscle in addition to muscle mass. For those of you who are interested in muscle gain, weight lifting jump-starts weight control. For those of you who are interested in muscle tone, weight lifting jump-starts metabolic rate.

Individuals who have strength trained for a sufficient number of years (6 months to 2 years) have seen tremendous benefits that go way beyond aesthetics. For example, increases in bone mineral mass and density. Estrogen and bone mineral mass are inversely proportional. Strength training can prevent or even reverse the osteoporosis process.
